Portuguese presentation of Good Practices

Responsible: Pedro Saragoça Martins (AYMP)

Good Practices: Artistic activities from different cultures shared by all the children

Description:

The presentation was supported by a video exhibition. That video showed the visit that Yehudi Menuhin made to one of the Portuguese schools with the MUS-E Project.

In that visit, Yehudi Menuhin had the opportunity to see several MUS-E sessions (musical expression, movement and dance, dramatic expression) where artistic activities representing all the different cultures of the children were performed. In fact, all the children did activities not only related with their own culture, but also with the culture of the children from the other cultures and ethnies.

This way, prejudices are effaced and children from all the cultures learn, enjoy and value the arts from other cultures, creating an intercultural frame. Racism and xenophobia are actually combated with these activities.
